PROJECTS

2018 – 2019

Solvin'It Organising Committee Solvin'It is a project of peer-teaching organized by a group of students from Faculdade de Medicina da Universidade de Lisboa, where older students (mentors) create teaching sessions for first-year students. My job, as a member of the Organising Committee, was to deal with the logistics of the sessions, including divulgation, registration and evaluation, and to supervise the preparation and teaching material used by the mentors.description...
