To whom it may concern,

Subject: Proof of Employment

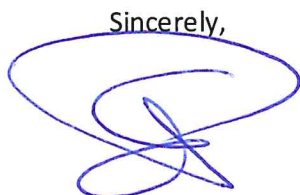

This is to certify that George Demetriou, holder of I.D. No. 1354631, was employed at the CYENS - Centre of Excellence as an Education & Training Manager for the period: June 24, 2019 until August 15, 2021.

Responsibilities of the Education and Training Manager:

- Develop and manage internal training of innovation practices, focusing on the areas of: entrepreneurship, intellectual property (IP) management and protection, IP commercialisation, commercial opportunities, industrial innovation landscape, stakeholder management, corporate service. The role will not necessarily be expected to deliver the above material but will manage its provision, including securing training providers (these may be internal or external).
- Explore innovative methods of technical, innovation and entrepreneurship training which utilise modern pedagogy concepts along with practices trailed at CYENS partner universities.
- Identify opportunities for consultancy, executive education and Continuing Professional Development (CPD) for external stakeholders based on the activities of CYENS.
- Supporting the technical members of CYENS to develop externally facing training courses and bespoke short courses that align with CYENS's technical specialisms.
- Undertake market research and canvas interest of partners, identifying company pain points along with external triggers, e.g. new government strategies, or industry trends, or technological advancements. This will inform opportunities for training or education to be delivered to companies.
