Final Testimonial

---

Mr. Basel Alalo, born on 1 September 1985, joined the Quality and Supply Chain department of GSK Consumer Healthcare S.A. as Intern – Serialisation Project Transition to Business as Usual Leader on 1 September 2019.

His main duties essentially included:

- Understand different types of serialisation solutions in place depending on countries regulations
- Get used to the process of manufacturing serialised products
- Support project team to transfer responsibility to routine production related functions
- Define process, role, and responsibility for routine manufacturing serialised products
- Create procedure and illustrate defined workflow in operational documents in a way that is easy to read
- In order to be able to deliver routine end-to-end process, interact with key functions of Nyon Supply Chain:
  - Project Management
  - Production
  - Quality
  - IT
  - Market Representatives for GSK
  - Supply
  - Logistic

Mr. Alalo possesses sound professional knowledge, particularly useful in the areas in which he had to operate. Apart from his expertise and experience, he also has a wide general knowledge. Thanks to his skills, he independently and successfully implemented demanding tasks. In addition, he was able to analyse and solve new problems very well.

Extreme reliability and accuracy are qualities we associated with Mr. Alalo's work. His level of commitment and motivation exceeded our expectations. Furthermore, his work was characterised by independence and responsibility.

Mr. Alalo has a pleasant manner and showed discretion while maintaining an appropriate analytical approach.

Mr. Alalo left us due to the expiration of his temporary employment on 29 February 2020. We would like to take this opportunity to thank him for his successful work. We wish him all the best for his personal and professional future.
